17. ABSTRACT (MAX. 250 WORDS)

Self-instructional directions are introduced. The lesson begins with oral review questions. The pronoun "it" is used in the answer. The words "line" and "draw" are introduced. The next sequence includes the instructions for the student to read silently. The student is not asked to give any oral response.

The helper reads another set of directions to the student introducing "read" and "write" in two sequences. The lesson is concluded with a series of self-instructional frames.
